

For Immediate Release:

Recently appointed NDS Vice President, Jeff Briner completes first SAP Compatible Units installation at Super Regional Utility

New York, June 29, 2006 — New Dimensions today announced the appointment of Jeff Briner to the role of Vice President of Consulting. Briner, 42, will be responsible for growth and leadership within New Dimensions' Utility consulting practice. Briner will bring more than 20 years of utility and asset management consulting experience to the role. Jeff most recently completed the successful implementation of SAP's entire suite of applications at a super regional T&D Utility. This is especially notable as this included SAP's first installation of their Compatible Units solution. "Being first out of the box with SAP's Compatible Units was challenging and exciting at the same time. All of the parties involved worked together to make it happen." said Briner. "Growing up as a professional techie in the 80's, when everything was built from scratch, really gave me the confidence to know that we could pull this off. I had a great client, excellent vendor support, and a hand picked team ... what else could you ask for on a project?" Briner looks forward to leveraging his many years of expertise with the existing New Dimension Team to continue their growth and well earned branding as a premier EAM Consulting Services provider.

About New Dimension Solutions, Inc

New Dimension Solutions (NDS), www.nd-solutions.com is a leading North American, Technology Services and Consulting company with deep domain expertise and the ability to leverage and deliver industry best practices. Our collaborative approach delivers enterprise-wide value and a proven track record of real savings and proven performance. Our success with complex implementations is driven by our deep understanding of the challenges that technology and change management can create within an organization.

Contact: Jim Menton, jim.menton@nd-solutions.com
646-825-8838 x-726