For Immediate Release:

New Dimension Solutions Implements SAP EAM for North American Pulp and Paper Manufacturer

New York, NY— New Dimension Solutions (NDS) recently completed an SAP Enterprise Asset Management (EAM) project for a leading Pulp and Paper products manufacturing company. The company's largest manufacturing facility went live on SAP's Enterprise Asset Management (EAM) solution the first week of July, 2007. The Go-Live transition was seamless and operations and maintenance have been running smoothly on the new system.

The project was a notable success when measured against stated objectives, and the project was accomplished in an aggressive time line. The system went live on time, and all original scope NDS deliverables were delivered on budget. The project used SAP's ASAP methodology with various value-added templates, accelerators and content provided by the NDS team.

The SAP EAM project scope included SAP Plant Maintenance, Mini-HCM, Materials Management – Inventory Management and Procurement – with complete integration into the existing SAP Financials.

The data conversion effort was very significant and it is testament to the competence and team work of the project team that this was accomplished in such a tight time-line. The implementation team also handled the considerable change management requirements, end-user training and post go-live user support.

This project extends SAP's footprint across the organization. The goal is to roll this functionality into the standard company functionality template with the intent to implement at their other manufacturing facilities globally.
